1998 CABERNET SAUVIGNON ESTATE

Signorello responded to the spring rains of '98 by dropping a lot of poorly set fruit, and the cabernet grapes remaining achieved a beautiful balanced ripeness through the long, cool harvest. The wine shows off lively flavors of plum, black cherry and sweet berries without a touch of jamminess. It's firm and gripping, a heavyweight of a cabernet lifted from blackness to brightness by its fresh acidity. Touches of earthiness and a green edge are taken up into all the fruit, funneled through a crisply lines finish. This should age well.
